The Chana Family

It is difficult to state whether our family began in the 16th Century or the 17th Century, however, it is clear that the Chana Family comprised of a group of cousin brothers. It is not clear who or what reason brought them all to the village Nawa Pend, where they stayed for a considerable period of time before acquiring land in the village Buillran, where they finally settled as farmers.

Sardar from village Shah-Kot, named Kartar Singh insisted that they should come to village Nawan Quilla and offered them free land as an inducement to move. The families took up the offer and settled in Nawa Quilla, building their own houses and "hawalies" close to one another. In around the 17th Century all the families got together and bored a water hole called the "Khoo". The families then left farming trying their hands on carpentry as a living, although they kept a small portion of land each for personal use. After some time it was noticed that the water hole was drying up so immediately everyone decided to bore another water hole to ensure a continuous supply of water, which was completed in the early 18th Century. This most recent "Khoo" is now in the land where Baba Shahed resides.

Sardar Kartar Singh gave a total of 75 acres of land to the six brothers free of charge. The brothers were :

1. Veer Singh dad's name not known was given 25 acres, has a son named Ran Singh.
2. Jeen Singh dad's name not known was also given 25 acres.
3. Gurtets Singh dada name was Chur Singh was given 12 acres,
4. Wasawa Singh
5. Ganda Singh
6. Lal Singh, the last three were given 13 acres between them, making a total 75 acres of land.

It is interesting at this stage to mention the family of the above, since it's felt that very few people know the actual facts - so I believe it's important to record this now rather than leaving it until later.

The following is known about the six cousin brothers.

Bagwan Singh son of Ran Singh son of Veer Singh, Jeen Singh had a son Puran Singh son of Jeen Singh, Gurtet Singh son Mukthar Singh, Wasawa Singh had a grandson Bawa Singh his father name was Jawala Singh, Ganda Singh's son of Raka Singh son of Charan Singh, Lal Singh's son Saran Singh son of Lal Singh. There were other children but only the eldest sons names are given in this text.

When the Sardars from Shah-kot made this town habitable, there were different castes presents, Jeeve Dhar, Muslims, Lohar, Thucan ( Ramgharias), Harijan, Churra, Jalaha and one family of Thalies.

I, Mr Piara Singh Chana collated all this information from my father who later died in 1970. When I visited India I came across some papers listing marriages, land registry for hawalies and other information relating to the names of old folks. The names that appeared on the registry were Ran Singh son of Veer Singh. I could not locate the name of Veer Singh father and certainly fate did not allow me ask my father who had died earlier. Veer Singh had two sons, Ran Singh and Faroo Singh.

Faroo Singh son of Veer Singh died at an early age. He died a horrific death trying to cut down a tree at home by digging a large amount of earth around the roots of the tree, called "Kekar". He found it difficult to climb out of the hole and tree collapsed on him. It was said that Faroo's spirit haunted the families and on several occasions he would take cooked food from the kitchen, leaving behind the empty bones and at night he would scare people with his spiritual presence. Faroo only did this to our family and did in no way hurt or spiritually scare anyone else in the village. He appeared in some persons dream where he demanded that his body be cremated and a holy shrine be built where you must always light a ghee candle or the "Dewa". Faroo continued to appear in people's dreams stating there was another spirit belonging to a Sant who had died previously at the same place where Faroo had died so tragically. Sants family was not known to anyone. Ran Singh or Veer Singh started to light the Dewa at home. After some time had elapsed, Bebi Mano related to Wasawa Singh died at an early age and spiritually joined Faroo and Baba Sant. She also appeared in several peoples dreams demanding that she should also given a shrine. It became difficult to light a Dewa for all three at home. So Baba Jee, Ran Singh and other elders in the village decided to build a five bricks shrine, where the ghee candle could be lit. The Dewa was lit daily for a long time and the shrine had no boundary walls. In 18th Century "semads" were made by Deviah belonging to the family of Lal Singhs family. At the start of 1918 the new "semads" were built by Gurbaks Singh son of Jeen Singh. The Dewa was continued to be lit for along time and people started to visit the shrine more often to pray, asking for peace and well being for their own families.

During the building of the "Semands" there were two very trees named "Baree" and "Lasoorah". There was a Muslim postman, called Mohammeda, who owned some goats. Mohammeda needed food for the goats and went to the "Baree" tree to cut down some branches. However, Mohammeda was warned by Sher Singh son of Ran Singh that if he cuts down the branches of such a powerful tree and fed them to the goats, the goats would surely die. Mohammeda ignored this, cut down the branches, returned home and fed them to the goats. The goats died. The elders of the village realising the wrong, gave "Parshad" and asked for forgiveness.

The "Lasoorah" tree had sweet berries at the top of the tree which all children liked to climb up and eat. Charani Kaur daughter of Bhagat Singh, climbed to top of the tree to get some berries and was thrown by some spiritual force to the ground, although she was unhurt. She heard a voice saying "girls must not climb this tree". The elders of the family, again asked for forgiveness from the spirit and offered "Parshad".

In 1981, all the Chana family gathered together and decided due to the desecration of the Dewa by the dogs, it was important to erect a room and a "semad". However, in order to do this, it was necessary to cut the two trees and so the Chana family asked permission, through "Ardas" from Baba Shahed. Baba Jagirdas carried out the first cuts on both trees after the Ardas, which were later cut down by all the elder members of the Chana family. I, Piara Singh witnessed the cutting of the two trees.

The fourth dramatic event was when Sadhu Singh son of Bagwan Singh around 1950, started to collect rice and other food from the village members and made "sweet yellow rice" called "Jarda" and other food and distributed it to all children on every Sunday at the "semad". This was helped by Charan Singh son of Raka Singh. From the beginning, started both "langer" and the "mela". Sadhu Singh died around 1957.

When I went India in 1976, I initiated the building of two rooms and a kitchen at the shrine. In 1981, I made another room inside the shrine of Baba Shahed. We asked Puran Singh if he could release some more land so that other rooms could be built near the shrine. At the time he did not say either yes or no. In 1982, I held a meeting in England where relatives were invited to discuss the future of the shrine. We all agreed that we must unite in the building of this shrine. I also stated that approximately one tenth of an acre had been donated to Baba Shahed by Mrs Atma Kaur wife of Kishan Singh son of Jeen Singh and I have asked for more land from Puran Singh.

The 1982 meeting collected vast amount of money which was later given to Darshan Singh who was visiting India in that year to buy the land from Puran Singh and also to build a new boundary wall. The Gurdwara Committee was instructed to carry out these alterations. Money was still to be collected by the relatives in England and was sent to India to ensure progress of work on the shrine. Most of charity work was carried out by Purina Singh son of Jeen Singh, Dilp Singh son of Inder Singh and Raka Singh son Ganda Singh and other families in the village. Within the shrine, there are three "semads", the large one belongs to Shaheed Baba Faroo, small one belongs to Bebi Mano and the other small one belongs to Sant Jee.

The Dewa is religiously lit daily at all times. The "semads" were named as Gurdwara Ramgarhia Shahid Asthan in 1981/82. The Dewa for the Sant continues to be lit at the old house in the village on a daily basis. When we sold the house in the village he told Kundan Lal to continue to light the Diva religiously as this was the original place for the shaheed some 200 years ago. It was made clear to him that if he does not light the Dewa or respect the place then the Shaheeds will harm him and his family. This commitment was undertaken by Kundan Lal.

When I went to India in 1994, Kundan Lal said that Sant Baba Jee had appeared to him on several occasions, prior to this he had appeared in front of Mrs Kartar Kaur wife of Buchan Singh, because this place was originally in the land / house that belonged to Bagwan Singh. Baba Sant Jee asked why the Dewa in Sardara Singhs house was lit daily. She explained that the family does not live there any longer and the house is locked up.

Baba Sant Jee explained that the Dewa can be lit to the wall adjacent to the house on Mondays and not on Sundays and that you and your family will live in peace.

In 1994 , more money was collected in UK and we asked the Committee in India how they would spend the 30,000 rupees . The Committee stated that during rush hour obtaining water was becoming very difficult and during Akand Padths , where there could be as many as 50 Giani's, who would want water for washing and cleaning. 30,000 rupees was to be spent on more water pumps ( in the old "Khoo" ) and the contributions made by people was recorded in a receipt which held by Piara Singh. Licence to have electricity at the Gurdwara was also applied for. This has become extremely important during the annual " Mela" held at the Gurdwara Ramgarhia Shahid Asthan.

All this information has been collected to disseminate to members of the Chana family, it is however, requested that should there be any errors or mistakes, please contact me Mr. Piara Singh Chana. Finally, due to the lack of information given, some names in the family tree have been omitted , but will endeavour to include them next time. There are other fine stories concerning Great Grand Father Baba Shaheed, but I'm sure everyone is aware of them.

Chana's from Nawan Quilla

This family tree of the Chanas from Nawan Killa is prepared by Piara Singh Chana. It is based on my memory and the memory passed on from my father Bhagwan Singh Chana. It took me some time to prepare this and it is not complete. It can be completed with your help. If you have found this useful, I would appreciate it if you could pass on any missing information that you can so I can update the family tree, and send you the amended copy.

My memory goes as far back as my Great grandfather Veer Singh Chana. I do not know where he was born. He went to Nawapend village and then to Bullaran village. From Bullaran he came to Nawan Killa village and settled there. He had two sons, Ran Singh and Feroo Singh.

Feroo Singh had no family. He died whilst cutting down a tree (Kikar). After his death he was given the title Saheed.
